

1 Green City

Clear view of asbestos roofs based on detailed aerial surveys

Efficient green space management: a detailed view of green areas is helpful to plan greenery work and prevent dangerous situations with overhead wires.

Improved water management in case of extraordinary rains, based on an accurate view of the water capacity of the city.

Intelligent spatial planning of cycle paths, walking trails and charging stations.

💡 The City of Philadelphia is now aware they have 112.000 street trees, where they are located and in which condition.

💡 The City of Mülheim an der Ruhr now has more grip on public green areas, improved waste management and better environmental protection.